ShopFreeMart Vitalize™ Incubated Egg Extract

ShopFreeMart Vitalize™ Incubated Egg Extract is a unique, nutrient-dense, cholesterol-free dietary substance derived from pre-embryonic fertilized chicken eggs that have been incubated under controlled conditions until they have reached peak levels of nutrients and growth factors. The patented process for extracting nutrients from incubated fertile chicken eggs was developed in Norway and has been used in Norway and throughout Scandinavia for many years. ShopFreeMart Vitalize™ Incubated Egg Extract contains two unique ingredients not found together in any other supplement.

FreeMart D-Cal Boron™

In its pure form, boron is a black, crystalline structure that is extremely brittle. It is an important mineral in human nutrition, but there is perhaps only one country in the world where the people in general get adequate amounts of boron from the food they eat; that being Israel, which could explain why Israel has less than 1% incidence of arthritis.

Sugar-D™

Fenugreek seeds (trigonella foenum-graecum) are high in soluble fiber, which helps lower blood sugar by slowing down digestion and absorption of carbohydrates. This suggests they may be effective in treating people with diabetes.

Hydration Drops™

Drinking the right kind of water is one of your best natural protections against all kinds of diseases. If the body's cells become dehydrated, they shrivel up, making it easy for viruses and diseases to attack.

Water is a vital component of all bodily fluids, tissues, cells, lymph, blood and hormones and the mucous membranes need plenty of water to keep them soft and free from friction on their delicate surfaces.

PURE COPPER CONCENTRATE

Copper is an electrolyte that is necessary for turning on a number of bodily functions. It is the third most prevalent mineral in the body and is most heavily concentrated in the blood plasma protein, Ceruloplasmin. Copper promotes normal growth, helps regulate the metabolism and utilization of iron, amino acids and vitamins.

ShopFreeMart Anti-Radiation Sticker

Modern technology continues to make our lives more convenient, but that convenience does not come without risk. Every day your health is being affected by a silent killer, electromagnetic radiation (EMR). This radiation can affect any cells and tissues of the body and the closer that mobile devices come into contact with the body, the more damage is being done. Common symptoms from cell phone radiation are headaches dizziness, insomnia mental fog, hair loss etc.

ShopFreeMart Gold Shield EMR Protection

Cell phones, tablets, iPads, and laptops are everywhere in today's society. Even babies and young children are frequently given an electronic device as a learning tool or babysitter. These devices all emit electromagnetic radiation (EMR). This radiation negatively affects all of the cells and tissues of the body, which can impair your health.

ShopFreeMart is here to educate you about these things and also to provide a simple method to greatly reduce the ElectroMagnetic Radiation, or “EMR” emissions that these devices produce.

Shopfreemart™ PureDine

Of all the elements essential for human health, iodine is the least understood and the most feared. Yet, iodine is the safest of all the essential trace elements. It is the only one that can be administered safely in high doses for long periods of time, as long as one understands how to adapt the dosage to his or her needs. Every individual is unique and will therefore require different amounts.
